A Journey to Excellence
September 22, 2011

Travel with us as we celebrate the people, places, and possibilities that make the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing #1 in graduate programs and #1 in community public health nursing programs.
Citations

[Nurses from 118th General Hospital in uniform at field hospital in the Philippines]," 1944, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, Mary Sanders Price Collection, item number 105041.

[118th General Hospital on landing ship transport, Hollandia, New Guinea," 1944, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, Military Medicine Photograph Collection, item number 105050.

[Nurse and student with pediatric patient, circa 1960] 1960s, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, People at Work Photograph Collection, item number 149006.

[Children gathered around student public health nurse Carolyn Griggs on park bench] 1964, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Insitutions, People at Work Photograph Collection, item number 105137.

[Jaqueline Liechty and Laurel Gene Long with children in India] 1953, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, People at Work Photograph Collection, item number 105149.

[Missionary nurse Elva Legters with mother and child in clinic, Merida, Mexico] 1961, Alan Mason Chesney Medical Archives of the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, People at Work Photograph Collection, item number 105150.