

THE PHD DOCTORAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AWARD

SPECIFICS	PHD PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
Purpose / Description	The Professional Development Award is designed to support selected full-time doctoral students in honing their professional skills. These students will receive financial support to invest in themselves through professional development opportunities that best fit their needs and personal interests.
Financial Support For	Funds are intended to prepare these students to be leaders in their chosen field by advancing their professional development skills. Awardees will use the funds creatively to access resources that they would not otherwise have funding for. (Funds given in the form of a reimbursement)
Number of Awardees	Annually select up to two exceptional PhD students
Type of support	Grant
Amount of Grant	$2500.00 per student for resources
Criteria	This award is open to any full-time JHUSON PhD doctoral student in any year of study. Students will be selected based on educational and professional credentials and references. They will have demonstrated competency and accomplishment in their chosen field of nursing, and potential to achieve their learning objectives.
Qualifications	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Actively enrolled full-time and in good standing in the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing PhD program •Demonstrated excellence in academic performance •Demonstrated integrity, sound judgment, and leadership as supported by their CV
Application Submission & Deadline	March 21-April 15, 2022
Award Announcement	May 1, 2022
Reports due to Program Admins	Submit a terminal report to the Program Director on the learning objectives that resulted from participation in this program.