

Liz Martinez RN, BSN, CCRC
Research Participant Advocate
Institute for Clinical and Translational Research
Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Ms. Martinez is the Research Participant Advocate for the Johns Hopkins (JHU) Institute for Clinical and Translational Research (ICTR). In this position Ms. Martinez provides support to Research Participants and Research Staff to encourage safe and ethical conduct of Clinical Research.

Ms. Martinez has over 29 years of clinical research experience at Johns Hopkins University and has been a Certified Clinical Research Coordinator since 1998.